Banishment of Colonel Herrera-General Maximo Gomes Reported To Have Crossed the Trocha-The Robbery of the Spanish Bank at Cardenas.

News was received in this city vesterday by the Cubans that His Excellency Don Ramon Herrera, of Havana, colonel of the notorious Fifth regi-ment, who has been for some time incommuniment, who has been for some time incommuniondo, leaves for Madrid as a prisoner on the 30th day of this month, accused of treason to Spain, by the mail steamer. Herrera, who has nitherto been a memoer of the Casino and very popular with the aboring classes, is accused of shipping many hundred rifles and accompanying ammunition on board his steamer, the Triunfo, which was lately wrocked on her trip to Nuevitas, and which was landed from that vessel. The war material in question not being shipped for the Spanish orces, the question arose for whom were they, and the natural supposition was that they were dest ned for the Cubans. Herrera's regiment, the Fifth volunteers, is the one which shot such a large number of people at the Villa Nueva Theatre, and also massacred the students on the 27th November, 1872. Upon Herrera's arrival in Spain it is thought that by means of his great wealth he will buy himself out of the scrape.

quite a large audience, principally Germans, at last night's performance. The theatre and garden were brilliantly lighted up, the entertainment commencing with a concert given in the garden. Mr. Neuendorf conducted a small, but thoroughly efficient orchestra through Auber's overture, "La Sirène," a Strauss polka and galop and an eminently sklinul arrangement of themes from "La Juive." The audience then betook themselves into the theatre to listen to "La Fille de Mme. Angot" in German, a language which succeeds in destroying the poiss and messe of the original. It was ver, well sung, however, the principal rôles being taken by Mile. Beckman and Mile. Heynoid, both clever artistes, and Messrs. Witt, Merten and Schutz, all three standard avorites among the Germans. Mr. Juius Beinstein will have a benefit at this place to-night, the programme consisting of a concert, a comedy and an operetta. A similar bill will be offered on Sunday evening. Making It Lively for the Liquor Sellers. WILKESBARRE, May 29, 1874.

The women's temperance movement, which heretofore has been carried on by fits and starts in received a new impetus to-day, in the arrival of seven of the leading crusaders of Williamsport.

These ladies, who have thus come to the rescue of their sisters of this city, are headed by Mrs. Deitrick and are experienced tacticians, and propose to make it lively for the liquor sellers. This afternoon they met at the rooms of the loung Men's Christian Association, and Mrs. Deitrick made a telling specon to the large audience, composed both of men and women. From there they concluded to go to Benjamin Dilley's hotel, into which the home crusaders had several times been denied admittance; but this time the Williamsport leaders pressed in and had prayer and singing, although the bartender protested against their conduct. Afterward they had singing and speechmaking on the sidewalk in front of the notel, which attracted a large crowd.

The Chief of Police finally told them to desist, as they were obstructing the passage, when they closed their exercises for the day. This evening Mrs. Deitrick addressed the people of Kingston in the Methodist Episcopal church. And to-morrow a grand union temperance prayer meeting will be held here. WESTERN COUNTERFEITERS.

Successful Raid by Colonel Whitley's Officers at Cincinnati-Thirteen Noto rious Wholesale Dealers and Manutacturers of the "Queer" in Custody-Their History, Antecedents, &c.

CINCINNATI, May 29, 1874. More than four months of incessant labor in this locality upon the part of officers of the United States Secret Service, acting under direction of Colonel H. C. Whitley, culminated at an early hour this morning in the arrest of thirteen of the most expert counterfeiters outside the wails of the peni-

As early as nine o'clock on Thursday night warrants of arrest were furnished the officers for these parties, and by three o'clock this morning they were salely lodged in jail. They gave their names Devota, Jake Devota (alias Italian Jack), Jame Earle, John McNellan, Joe Miller (alias Jim Rittenhouse), Jim Seymour, G. Hoplekampe, Preu'k Kreutzinger, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Jennie

All the above named parties were banded together and composed an organization with fread-quarters at Cincinna:i, through the agency of which the West and Southwestern States gooded with spurious issues of the national cur-

John Mills was arrested in Cincinnati, Ohio, in John Mills was arrested in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1871, for dealing in counterfeit money and was sent to the Peniteutiary for tweive months. He is the son-in-iaw of Mme. Roberts, who has been several times arrested for dealing in bogus money and who is known to the officers as the surewdest female count-rieiter of the period. His brother, Bid Mills, is now serving a four years' term of imprisonment in the Ohio Peniteutary as a counterfeiter, and is sips a son-in-law of Mme. Roberts.

John McNeilan is an expert forget, and is one of the very few men who can imitate Mr. Treasurer Spinner's signature to perfection. He is an old offender, having dealt in counterfeit money for twenty years past. He resided on the Ohio River, near its mouth, and up to this morning had managed to evade the officers.

Joe Miller, alias Jim Kittenhouse, is a wholesale dealer and manufacturer of bogus money. He operated for a long time and successfully in the Bastern States, but suddenly disappeared, and the officers lost all trace of him until they commenced their labors in the West, when they found him to be one of the heaviest dealers there.

Mrs. Jennie I witchell was the keeper of an infamous den in this city which was the resort of lewd women and of counterfeiters, ourgiars and thieves. She was known to the "queersmen" as "the banker"—that is, as a confidential party to receive the counterfeit money in large sums and hold it until it was disposed of to the smail dealers. She was also a wholesale dealer herself.

Mrs. Mary Brown is probably one of the most successful female dealers in counterfeit money in this country. She is the nother of liftly Hrown, who escaped from Ludlow Street Jail, in New York bill Gordon has already done three terms of service in the Onio Fenitentiary for the crime of counterfeiting; he having last been sent there in 1871. He is a wholesale dealer, and had boasted that his "eye teeth" were cut and that the detectives could never "woo!" him again; but he is last in the meshes and the evidence is said to be complete.

James Earle was a waiter in one of the Cincinnati restaurants, a position which afforded him an excellent opportunity for passing bogus fity cent stamps; but which he improved once too often. Hoplekampe and Kreutzinger are German lager beer saloou kee-ers; they were also wholesale dealers in counterleit money, and their saloons were the resort of counterleiters and their saloons were the resort of counterleiters and their saloons were the resort of counterleiters and theres. Antoine and Jake Devota arrogated to themselves the right to furnish their Italian friends with the "queer," and managed to dispose of a large quantity of it, but were unfortunate enough to number one of Colonel Waitley's "Italians" among their customers and came to grief.

6. C. Berkley and Jim Seymour were small dealers, but were rapidly attaining notoriety and enlarging their business when their plans were spoiled by the officers.

Many of the above parties were appreciated in ompiete. James Earle was a waiter in one of the Cincin-their beds; some at Jennie Twitchell's, where they were having a carousal, and others at an Italian lodging house. There was some little resistance lodging house. There was some little resistance shown, but in the main tiey submitted peaceably. This raid forms a sequel to the one organized by Colonel Whitley in October last in the States of North Carolina and Tennessee, and a full account of which was published exclusively in the Herald of which was published exclusively in the HRRALD at that time.

That raid was more important in numbers than this, eighty-two persons being then arrested, but was not nearly so important as to the class of men, as they were, with but lew exceptions, small dealers, and of the class who pass the bogus money. The men arrested here this morning are mainly wholesaic dealers and manufacturers. To them the smaller dealers come from all parts of the West and southwest to obtain their susplies, and it is at once apparent that their arrest has crippled, if not earnedly suppressed, the traffic in counteriest money in this locality, for the present at least. The officers have started down the river, armed with warrants of arrest for several other parties, but up to the present no tidings of their operations have come to hand.

THE BEITING. Lady Dahlman was the lavorite over the field before the start, and by winning the first heat long odds were offered on her. The second heat was won by Cora F., but even this did not seem to deter her friends from offering longer odds on her. Not until after the third heat were the backers of Lady Dahlman willing to believe that they were wrong in their calculations, but then it was too late to get right, and they lost heavily on the re-rite to get right, and they lost heavily on the result.

First Heat.—Sweatmeat had a trifle the best of the send-off. Uncle Sam second, Lady Dahiman third, Cora F. fourch, Jim Coyle fith, Melissa sixth, Lady Sonburg seventh. Sweatmeat kept the lead and at the quarter pole was two lengths anead of Lady Dahiman, in 3s seconds, Jim Coyle third, Cora F. fourth, Melissa fith, Lady Sonburg sixth, Uncle Sam seventh. Sweetmeat kept the gap open to the half-mile pole—time, I:17—but going up the hill to the three-quarter pole Lady Dahiman took sides with her, and after quite a sprited struggie Lady Dahiman won the heat by three lengths, Sweetmeat second, three lengths in front of Cora F., Melissa fourth, Jim Coyle fith, Uncle Sam and Lady Sonburg distanced. Fime of the beat, 2:36½.

second Heat.—Jim Coyle was away first, but heat, 2:36%.

Second Heat.—Jim Coyle was away first, but broke up almost as soon as the start was given; Lady Dahiman second, Sweetmeat third, Cora F. fourth, Melissa fittu. The quarter-pole was passed first by Lady Dahiman by a nead in 38% seconds, Sweetmeat second, Cora F. third, Melissa fourth, Jim Coyle far behind. Sweetmeat was a length ahead at the half-mile pole in 1:17%, Lady bahiman second, one length ahead of Melissa who was at that moment trotting very fast; Cora P. was close up, Melissa soon afterwards broke up and iell back, and Cora F. moved up to Lady Dahiman and Sweetmeat. The latter then broke up, meli Lady Dahiman immediately afterwards for and Lady Dahlman immediately afterwards fol-lowed suit, when Cora F. went to the front, and taking a good lead, came steadily on and won the heat by two lengths in 2:38%; Lady Dahlman sec-ond. in 2:35½, Sweetmeat second, Lady Dahlman third, Meltssa fourth. —Lady Dahlman had the best of the send-off, but broke up soon afterwards, Cora F. second, Sweetmeat third, Melissa jourth. At the quarter pole, which was passed in 3s seconds, Cora F. led two lengths, Sweetmeat second, Melissa third, Lady Dahlman Tourth. Melissa broke up badly as she was going on the lower turn. Offa passed tips half-mile pole up 1:16, and trotting very nicely off, without skip or break, won the heat by half a length from Lady Dahlman, who ran Offa passed the half-mile pole in 1:16, and trotting very meety off, without skip or break, won the heat by half a length from Lady Dahlman, who ran up to her at the finish. Sweetmeat was third, Melissa lourth. Time, 2:37%. Lady Dahlman won second money, Sweetmeat the third prize.

Cora F., the winner, is a very square-gaited trotter, and is stylish in her movements. She is a dapple gray, about litteen and a half bands high and say years old. She was sired by the Portland horse General Knox, dam said to be thoroughored.

The Second Trot.

Judge Fullerton was the favorite at 2 to 1 before the start, yet there was a great deal of money wagered even that American Girl would win the first heat. This she did very easily, and money wagered even that American Girl would win the first heat. This she did very easily, and her backers rejoiced much. She then advanced in the betting until she was hearly on a par with Judge Fullerton; but, after the second heat, 3 to 1 on Judge Fullerton is but, after the second heat, 3 to 1 on Judge Fullerton sought vainly for takers.

First Heat.—After scoring several times the word was given, with Judge Fullerton on the inside, half a length in front of American Girl; but the word "go?" had scarcely leit the lips of the starting judge before Judge Fullerton broke badly and floundered about the track until American Girl was fifty yards away. She led to the quarter pole about sixty yards in front of him, in 34% seconds, and to the half mile in 1:09. The mare then trotted steadily slong, but not at her best, to the homestretch, when she was slowed and jouged home flity yards in front of Judge Fullerton, making the heat in 2:23½.

Second Heat.—The horses had a head and head send-on, but very soon atterwards American Girl broke up and staid up until she was around the turn. Judge Fullerton then took the pole and led to the quarter pole in 35 seconds, two lengths in front of the mare. He kept the dayinght open to the lower turn, when American Girl hooke again, and Fullerton was four lengths ahead of her at the half-mile pole in 1:10. He climbed the hill in galant style, and was five lengths in front at the three-quarter pole. Then coming steadily and leisurely on, with his driver, Dan Mace, looking back, watching the mare, he won the heat in 2:23½.

Third Heat.—Judge Fullerton had half a length and leishrely on, with his direct, Dain ande, looking back, watching the mare, he won the heat in 2:334.

Third Heat.—Judge Fullerton had half a length the best of the start, which he made into a length on the turn. He went to the quarter pole with two lengths the best of it, in 34% seconds. The mare broke up as she entered the lower turn and lost a trifle more of ground, Judge Fullerton being nearly turce lengths shead of her at the half-mile pole, in 1:05%. American Girl trotted last up the hill and was at Fullerton's wheel, when she broke up again. This mishap put her chances entirely out, as the Judge came on steadily and won the heat by lour lengths, in 2:22.

Fourth Heat.—The horses had a very fair start, both under a grand rate of speed, but before they were around the turn American Girl broke up and lost several lengths. She trotted very fast after recovering. Fullerton was three lengths shead at the quarter pole in 34% seconds. The mare broke again as she rounded the lower turn, and Fullerton led six lengths to the half-mile pole in 1:08. The mare made an unsuccessful effort to overtake Fullerton, and he came home an easy winner by lour lengths in 2:23.

Dan Mace drove Judge Fullerton, and he was so weak from his late illness that he had to be helped in and out of the suizy during the race.

THE KELLY PRIZE DEBATE.

College of the City of New York Boys Contesting for Forensie Honors-Rivalry Between the Phrenocosmians and Clionians-No Decision Vet.

The Kelly prize debate between the literary ocieties of the College of the City of New York took place last evening in Steinway Hall, before a large audience, composed principally of the friends and relatives of the students of the City College. This friendly contest always excites much interest among all whose ears are daily familiar with the name of the college, and this may account for the large number of boys and girls who were eager listeners and genuine admirers of the display.

The societies, named respectively the Phrenocosmian and the Clionian, whose chosen representatives now compete annually for the prize cosmian and the Chonian, whose chosen representatives now compete annually for the prize, have been in existence for over eighteen years, and have always been centres of interest to the students of the college, some years ago an. James Keily, formerly a member of the Board of Education and still a friend of the school system of the city, in order to encourage still further to competition the members of each society, gave to the college a sufficient sum of money to purchase annually two goldsmedals to be awarded to the successful fival in a public debate, and it was for the testing of the claims of the societies for this honor that the debate of last evening eccurred.

The chair was occupied by General Webb, President of the College of the City of New York, and on the platform were the members of the Board of Education and several other prominent citizens who take a deep interest in public education. When these gentlemen came on the platform the orchestra commenced playing the overture to Rosmi's "William Tell," and after this the Key. Dr. Dunie pronounced a prayer. President Webb then explained to the audience that the subjects for the debate had been selected by the Board of Education and that the Judges had also been appointed by that body. Seven minutes were to be allowed to each speaker for the first part of the debate, and five minutes for the second. The subject was:

Resolved, that the concentration of property in the hands of a few is destructive to the stability of our government.

The young debaters spoke with considerable fluency and showed good knowledge of the strong and weak points in the argument. After the first address the speakers were obliged to discuss the subject ex tempore. The example of England in the degraded condition of her working classes, the dangers of centralization of wealth, the democratic principles of Americans, and the power of these to destroy any permanent possession of the wealth of this country by any one class, and kindred points, were all treely handled.

Ko decision was rendered by the judges—whose

No decision was rendered by the judges—whose names are James W. Beekman, Howard Potter and John R. Ague or will there be mencement day at the college, when the decision will be rendered in writing. The proceedings closed with the benediction.
